EVENT BACKGROUND AND OBJECTIVES

The 1st “EU-Japan Cooperation Forum on ICT Research” took place on March 4-5, 2008 at the Mita Kaigisho Conference Hall of the Japanese Government in Tokyo and attracted over 200 delegates.

This second edition, organised under the aegis of the European Commission (Directorate General Information Society and Media), and of the Ministry of Internal Affairs and Communications (MIC), Japan, with the support of the COJAK FP7 project, aims at providing European and Japanese organisations with a new opportunity to get together, network, and identify or strengthen potential cooperation projects in the ICT area, particularly those to be presented at coming FP7 calls.
